Testimonials

Amanda Dickstein

"I choose to support and volunteer at The Magdalen House because this house saved me. I was completely uneducated on the disease of alcoholism and suffered in silence for so long, I found myself on the brink of losing everything. At The Magdalen House, I was able to learn about this disease and found a community of women that would inevitably give me the tools to start a new life with meaning and purpose where I once felt nothing but shame and guilt. Thanks to The Magdalen House, I get to wake up everyday and be proud of the wife, mother, daughter, friend, and person that I am today."

Amanda Dickstein has been a part of The Magdalen House in every capacity possible. After completing both our First Step and Next Step programs, she has been instrumental as a volunteer, donor, and, most recently, co-chair of our annual Game, Set, Match Fundraising Event.
